PBR XLR 16F DSub

The PBR XLR 16F DSub patchbay offers 16 female XLR connection points for your microphones and other devices. Connecting your gear to the XLR patchbay will save a lot of time and frustration: no more getting behind your racks and reconnecting hardware every time you want to try some new routing!

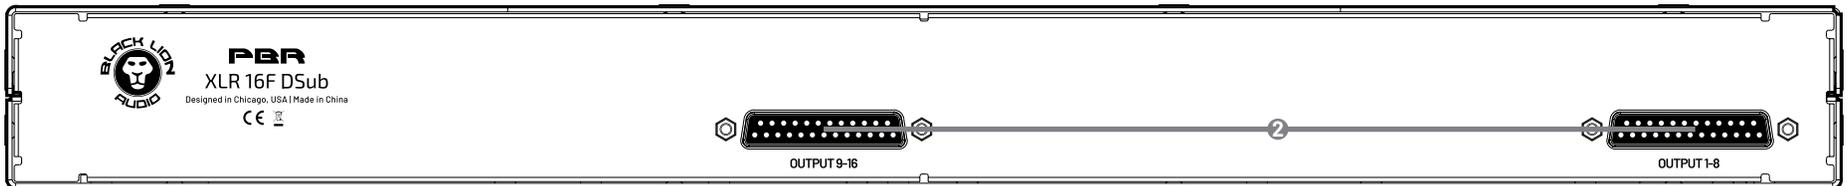

Simply connect the rear DB25 jacks to the desired inputs of your mixer, interface, or hardware processors.

From there, you can use the convenient front panels to directly connect your mics to any hardware connected to the rear of the patchbay.

The DSub connections on the rear follow Tascam DB25 wiring conventions.

1. XLR female connection: Accepts male XLR plugs for connecting your audio gear.

2. DB25 Outputs: Accepts DB25 connectors for connecting your audio gear.
